

Ranas

Las ranas son animales pequeños que pueden vivir en la tierra y en el agua.

Las ranas ponen muchos huevos en el agua que salen del cascarón como renacuajos. Los renacuajos se parecen a peces chicos.

Después de unas semanas, empiezan a crecer los brazos y las patas del renacuajo. Las patas traseras crecen y la cola se hace más pequeña hasta que la rana alcance su pleno desarrollo.

Las ranas usan sus lenguas grandes y pegajosas para atrapar la comida. A las ranas les gusta comer los insectos, ipero algunas ranas se 4 comen otras ranas!

Las ranas gritan la una a la otra por croar.
Cada rana tiene un croar distinto.

Las ranas son buenas para saltar a causa de sus fuertes patas traseras.

Hay muchos colores diferentes de ranas.
Algunas ranas usan sus colores para esconderse.
¿Tú puedes encontrar la rana en esta foto?

La próxima vez que salgas afuera, ¡a ver qué tipo de ranas puedes encontrar!

Book notes: The camouflaged frog on page 7 is an ornate horned frog, it isn't a toad. I don't have names for all the other frog species, if you know, please let us know and we'll include the info.

Our aim with this series of books is to weave together two significant goals in the design of early reading materials—that the books are both instructional and engaging. Books designed to develop reading skills often end up feeling like work to read, while books designed to be interesting are often too difficult for beginning readers.

These books for beginning readers support phonics-based classroom instruction by including a high concentration of phonetically regular words, as well as the most commonly used sight words. However, the books are written using pictures and stories that make sense and promote both language and conceptual development. The books encourage questions, conversations and thoughtful engagement, aiming towards the new common core standards. Our intent is to produce books that kids want to read, think about, talk about and read again.
